NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE OFFICERS
OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE

DATE: 30 May 1974

TO: All NIOs

FROM: GACarver, Jr.

SUBJECT:

REMARKS:

As all of you will have noticed, the old CIB is no more and has been replaced by something called the National Intelligence Bulletin, a document put out as a USIB product. The format is slightly different, there are a few more articles in each day's issue (perhaps too many) and somewhat more stress is laid on coordination than was the case with the CIB though it, of course, was also a coordinated document (at least in theory).

In about two weeks, I would appreciate receiving your reactions to the new NIB and any suggestions for improvement you might have. I am particularly interested in two things: (a) its utility for its audience (senior members of the analytic fraternity and policy officials below the level of those who receive the National Intelligence Daily), and (b) whether or not, in your judgment, the stress on coordination has a deleterious impact on the crispness, bite, and usefulness of the individual articles in your respective areas.

George A. Carver, Jr.

Deputy for National Intelligence Officers
